Sunday
afternoon -
[3/15/14]

Mommy dear,

This noon
all of us at Fisher had on our very special
company manners, for
the minister in chapel
this morning came here to dinner. He is the son of Mr. Dwight L.
Moody and used to be at Northfield, as so many of the Northfield girls live at

Fiske, he came here for dinner. He preaches in Vermont now - his name
is Mr. Paul D. Moody;
we all lost our hearts
to him - he is so nice
and fatherly looking.
Yesterday afternoon
Sarah and I went over to Natick to see the almshouse; we had to come time for Economics and it was so pleasant we went
yesterday afternoon.
It is two miles to Natick and the town
home - as they call it.

is over a mile past there. We walked over and back, besides walking twice up to College Hall and back and once down to the village. so I am not very much surprised that I don't feel much like taking a long walk to-day. The town house was real interesting. at present they have twenty inmates - sixteen men and four women, but have room for more because it is a huge building. Everything was very clean and neat and the mation was as nice as could be. When we were looking at the kitchen she brought out a big chocolate cake and gave us each a piece of a size that would be cut into enough for about six or 7 kids.

Last evening there was a class social, after that a party in one of the girls' rooms here and after that news of our victory in the debate with Mount Holyoke. the first <sup>debate</sup> we have had with another college for a long time.

Your loving daughter
